

LASSEN VOLCANIC NATIONAL PARK

ROAD AND TRAIL CONDITIONS AS OF: 07/17/03

Note concerning trails that we do not have information on: initial trail reports tell us that there were numerous trees blown down across trails due to severe winter storms. The trails crew and other park employees are working as quickly as they can to clear downed trees and debris. This is a huge job and will take some time to correct, maybe even years. If you have a information about the status of a trail that has not been recently updated, please submit a report at Park Headquarters or the Loomis Museum. Thanks in advance for your help!
